

INTERDISCIPLINARY OPPORTUNITIES

The following section identifies interdisciplinary areas and the faculty and courses in those areas. Some students may explore these areas through one of the formal concentration programs described in the preceding pages. Students may also wish to plan their own programs in one of these areas: Tutorial Studies or General Studies in the Humanities. Students should discuss these options with their College advisers.